The Work in Progress (WIP) Schedule: How to Prepare One.

The Work in Progress Schedule, known as WIP Schedule, is a vital document used by bankers, surety agents and underwriters to determine the success or failure of a contractor. It is a document that is prepared in-house by the contractor, but rarely is it done correctly if, at all. This webinar will demystify the WIP schedule: you will understand it, understand the information that must go into it, and help you take control of this vital document to the success of your firm.
