

“It’s nice working with the smartest people in the adult literacy field. Nicer still that they happen to be experienced, friendly and flexible, organized and dependable.”

Andrew Baker,
College of New Rochelle

“If you want to implement a successful bridge-to-college program, look no further. Partner with LaGuardia and learn from the best.”

Olga Merchan,
YouthBuild USA

“WPTI selected LaGuardia’s College & Career Pathways Institute for their expertise and proven track record in providing contextualized education services that prepare young people for careers in growing fields. CCPI’s work training programs and colleges across the country demonstrates their reach and access to best practices from outside and within New York City.”

Sabeen Pirani,

At LaGuardia Community College, we believe in the transformative power of education. We serve over 30,000 New Yorkers of diverse cultures, ages, ethnicities, and educational and economic backgrounds, helping them to advance their education and careers.

LaGuardia's College & Career Pathways Institute creates innovative and evidence-based instructional models that are proven to help you prepare your students to become college and career ready.

Our Models

- Contextualized Instruction – sector focused approach to developmental instruction that uses authentic materials from one career area to build basic skills
- Integrated Training – developmental instructional model that includes a pre-training vestibule focused on developing academic skills; academic support and job placement services; didactic and student-centered teaching strategies; team teaching with a technical instructor and basic skills educator

Students in our high school equivalency contextualized curriculum program are twice as likely to earn a high school diploma and three times as likely to enroll in college as students in other high school equivalency programs. They are also better prepared for college.
