

Liberal Arts Clusters

Spring 2017

A Liberal Arts Cluster consists of four courses linked by a common theme.

When you take a Cluster, you:

- Earn 12 - 15 credits that count towards your Associate Degree
- Make connections among courses
- Form a community with your classmates
- Work closely with all of your faculty
- Are more likely to stay in college and graduate

LC10 TECHNOLOGY, POWER, AND FREEDOM: BUILDING YOUR DIGITAL IDENTITY

- Composition I (ENG101.41560)
- The Research Paper (ENG103.53907)
- Critical Thinking (HUP102.63888)
- Public Speaking (HUC106.47456)
- New students only: New Student Seminar (LIF101.56974)

TIME	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI
9:15-10:15		■	■	■
10:30-11:30	■	■	■	■
11:45-12:45		■	■	■
1:00-2:00	■	■	■	■
2:15-3:15	■	■		■

- IN THIS LEARNING COMMUNITY, YOU WILL:
- Explore liberty and control in our app-centric and digitally-connected lives
 - Reflect on how technology has shaped our identities and ideas about personal freedom
 - Read about the intersection of mass media, social movements, and invisible labor in digital communities
 - Go on field trips to the Museum of the Moving Image and the Met

LC20 TRUTH, LIES, AND VIDEO

- Composition I (ENG101.41561)
- The Research Paper (ENG103.53908)
- Mass Media and Their Evolution (HUC120.47871)
- American Film (HUC270.41668)
- New students only: New Student Seminar (LIF101.56976)

TIME	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI
9:15-10:15	■	■		■
10:30-11:30	■	■	■	■
11:45-12:45	■	■	■	■
1:00-2:00	■	■	■	■
2:15-3:15	■	■		■

- IN THIS LEARNING COMMUNITY, YOU WILL:
- Examine how the various media present our world to us
 - Question the relationship between the medium and the subject matter that it presents
 - Engage with a wide range of films, novels, plays, advertisements, TV shows, and print culture
 - Visit the Museum of the Moving Image