

Liberal Arts Learning Communities Spring 2017

When you take a cluster or pair, you:

- Earn credits that count towards your Associates Degree
- Make connections among courses
- Form a community with your classmates
- Work closely with faculty
- Are more likely to stay in college and graduate

Pairs

A pair consists of two classes where the professors make connections between the courses. You may take one of the pairs to have a part time schedule (and add classes if you wish) or take both pairs to make a full time schedule.

PR01 AMERICAN CULTURAL IDENTITIES IN POETRY, PROSE, BEATS AND RHYMES

TIME	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI
9:15-10:15		■		■
10:30-11:30		■		■
11:45-12:45		■		■

- Writing Through Literature (ENG102.53633) Required Core
- American Music (HUM210.41998)
Flexible Core (Creative Expression) or Program Core

- IN THIS PAIR YOU WILL:
- Explore connections between literature, music, and American cultural identity
 - Learn about the history of Hip Hop, Jazz, Rock and Roll, and Blues in the United States
 - Examine drama, poetry, fiction, and film that focus on musical themes
 - Participate in field trips to museums and plays

PR02 THE COSMIC PAST

TIME	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI
10:30-11:30	■		■
11:45-12:45	■		■
1:00-2:00	■		■

- Topics in Astronomy (SCP140.53895) Required Core
- World History 2 (SSH106.42199)
Flexible Core (World Cultures) or Program Core

- IN THIS PAIR YOU WILL:
- Examine the social context of the scientific revolutions in history and the social forces that surround them, beginning with the Copernican Revolution
 - Explore how scientific paradigms emerge
 - Link astronomy and history through exhibits at the American Museum of Natural History

Clusters

A cluster is a full time schedule of classes arranged around a central theme. This cluster is for students who have completed ENG101 but not ENG102, and need MAT096 or MAT119. If you still need ENG101, see the separate "Clusters" flyer.

LC30 ALIENATION AND INQUIRY

TIME	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI
9:15-10:15	■	■		■
10:30-11:30	■	■		■
11:45-12:45	■			■
1:00-2:00	■	■		■
2:15-3:15		■		■

- Statistics with Elementary Algebra (MAT119.53108) Required Core
- Writing Through Literature (ENG102.41336) Required Core
- Introduction to Philosophy (HUP101.42122)
Flexible Core (Individual and Society) or Program Core

- IN THIS CLUSTER YOU WILL:
- Discover and apply various modes of inquiry used in English, math, and philosophy (e.g., textual analysis, statistical analysis, philosophical argument)
 - Identify and analyze the interconnections among these forms of inquiry
 - Develop an understanding of social alienation via critical inquiry
 - Learn to use Statistics as a tool to illustrate any inquiry process

To Register: Enter the five-digit CUNY First code for each course from the "enroll" screen of CUNYFirst

Questions? Contact Naomi J. Stubbs, Learning Communities Coordinator, nstubbs@lagcc.cuny.edu

