

College and Career Pathways Institute

College and Career Pathways Institute (CCPI) at LaGuardia Community College creates and pilots new and innovative program models, using evidence-based contextualized instructional strategies to help adult educators prepare students to become college and career ready.

CCPI provides:

- workshops
- program redesign assistance & coaching
- site-based technical assistance
- curriculum development support
- instructional and leadership coaching

We work with colleges, adult education providers, community based organizations, workforce training organizations, college access and success organizations and more.

Workshops

CCPI workshops introduce educators and administrators to the rationale and practice of contextualized instruction and integrated training programs while supporting them in their first steps towards implementation. Workshops range from a half day to two full days. All workshops are easily customized to the specific needs of your institution, including focus on regional in-demand sectors/careers or incorporation of required state and programmatic standards and competencies.

Courses

CCPI offers an online and hybrid course that connect individuals or institutions across the country. These courses take place over an extended period of time, providing an opportunity for deep learning and meaningful interaction with peers.

Career Focused Basic Skills Contextualized Curriculum Development Course (4 – 6 months)

CCPI's hybrid course allows you to deepen your knowledge and practice while being supported by expert trainers and developing a community of practitioners. This course is comprised of webinars, in-person workshops, online discussions and one-on-one curriculum coaching sessions. Immerse yourself in the design and implementation process of contextualized curricula while you develop and pilot a contextualized lesson (or unit) and build a community of practitioners.

Contextualized Instruction (24 hours over 6 weeks)

Created in partnership with World Education, this online course can host a cohort of educators from one institution or individuals interested in taking the first steps towards implementing contextualized instruction. For more information or to register visit
