

Recorded Lecture Contract

Students with disabilities who are unable to take or read notes have the right to record class lectures for their personal study only.* Lectures taped for this purpose may not be shared with other people without the consent of the instructor. Recorded lectures may not be used in any way against the faculty member, other lecturers, or students whose classroom comments are taped as a part of the class activity. Information contained in the recorded lecture is protected under federal copyrighted laws and may not be published or quoted without the express consent of the lecturer and without giving proper identity and credit to the lecturer.

Pledge: I have read and understand the above policy on recorded lectures at LaGuardia Community College, and I pledge to abide by the above policy with regard to any lectures I tape while enrolled as a student at LaGuardia Community College.
