

English Department Policy

English Department policy, which was ratified at our January meeting. It goes into effect in Spring I.

In all English department courses, students can be absent without penalty for no more than two weeks' worth of class time during session I, and one week's worth of class time during session II. Absences begin to be counted on the first day of class, regardless of when you registered.

This means you can miss:

- 6 hours in a 3-hour per week course
- 8 hours in a 4-hour per week course
- For ENA 101, which meets for 7 hours a week, students are limited to:
 - 8 hours of absence in the ENG 101 course and 6 hours of absence in the ENA 101 course.

Students missing less than two weeks' worth of class time will not be penalized for those absences. However, student engagement, which is part of the overall course grade, relies on in-class activities such as low-stakes writing assignments, peer review, and in-class high stakes essays. Some of these cannot be made up outside of class and may affect the engagement grade.

Students who exceed the two-week limit may receive a lower course grade. After four weeks of absence, students can no longer pass the course.

This policy applies equally across in-person, online-synchronous, hybrid and online-asynchronous courses. For hybrid courses, which meet once a week in-person and have a weekly asynchronous activity, missing the weekly asynchronous activity counts as an absence. For online-asynchronous courses, your instructor's syllabus will explain how attendance will be counted.
